In RCW 77.85.005, the legislature found that the State of Washington may best accomplish salmon recovery efforts by integrating local and regional salmon recovery activities into a statewide strategy; a coordinated state funding process should be established through a salmon recovery funding board; the appropriate local or tribal government should provide local leadership in identifying and sequencing habitat projects to be funded by state agencies; habitat projects should be implemented without delay; and, a strong locally based effort to restore salmon habitat should be established by providing a framework to allow citizen volunteers to work effectively.

2.2 Prior Programs Recognized. There have been prior efforts among governmental jurisdictions in the Yakima River basin to address water quality and salmon recovery. Such efforts include the preparation of the Yakima Subbasin Plan and the Draft Yakima Subbasin Recovery Plan of the Yakima Sub-Basin Fish & Wildlife Planning Board and the Memorandum of Agreement regarding lead entity status under Chapter 77.85 RCW.
